Transcriber's Office
FLOOR DEBATE

January 24, 2002 LB 82

Senator Bromm had said he doesn't want the Legislature to design these citations, but, as I was saying toward the end of his and my exchange, if you read these three...these sections listed in the first division, 2, 13 and 18, you will see where the Legislature has already, to a great extent, designed the citation. On the first page of the amendment it talks about handicapped parking infractions and the kinds of things that will go on that citation, the time and place at which the person cited is to appear, a warning that failure to appear, and then it says that this particular citation can be used as the complaint to be filed in court. It says that in all three of the sections of statute mentioned. A complaint filed in court is a public record. Senator Redfield has gained somebody who is not as opposed to her identify theft bill as I had been in view of things that have developed all over the country, Senator Redfield, not just with the people that you were talking about that you knew about, but from everywhere. When these cops come in here, and Senator Bruning ought to be concerned that law enforcement obeys the law, if the Omaha police right now are using Social Security numbers you should be saying something about that because you've got cops violating the law like the two Omaha cops who were arrested for drunk driving. But you don't talk about that. You trust law enforcement. Members of the Legislature, what is being offered in this bill is a notification to the public that you do not have to give your Social Security number even if a cop tells you you've got to give it. If it's on that citation, that citation is filed with the court and anybody can go down there, Senator Redfield, and collect all these citations and take every Social Security number off, and you don't have any way of knowing who lifted which Social Security number and misused it. What they're telling people now is that when your Social Security number is used, it doesn't just mess up your credit, it messes up your life, your life. And to say that these lazy cops and these nontruth telling cops are going to suggest that without a Social Security number they cannot handle the delivery of citations? I want to ask Senator Bromm a question. Senator Bromm, do you know that the State Patrol stopped having citations requiring a Social Security number when the Supreme Court made its determination? Are you aware of that?
